Date :	2011.06.13
Legislative :	Order from the Ministry of Education Tai-Document (II) No. 1000095408C Date: June 13, 2011
Content :	According to Article 11, Paragraph 3, of the Ministry of Education' s Regulation regarding international students that are undertaking studies in and must withdraw after admission to a university/college due to behavioral issues, poor academic performance or conviction under the R.O.C. Criminal Code, may not reapply for admission. Academic performance is interpreted as an evaluation of the student' s on-campus learning and examination results, which is required for the successful completion of a degree program; however, the qualifying exam for doctoral degree candidates is considered only as an evaluation towards acceptance as a doctoral candidate. Failure to successfully pass this exam, will not apply as poor performance, as referred to in this regulation.
